

helping to raise amazing girls

Position Advertised: New Zealand school presenter

Thanks for your interest in the position!

Enlighten Education is a provider of in-school workshops for girls throughout New Zealand and Australia. We have been operating in NZ for three years, and are working with girls in over 35 schools across the country. We deliver a range of half- and full-day in-school workshops for girls aged 11–18 to help them develop self-esteem, confidence, career skills and life skills. The workshops are about celebrating all the things girls love about themselves, challenging them to rethink negative and destructive behaviours, and changing the way they respond to their environment and each other.

We are looking for a dynamic person with outstanding presentation skills to join our team and work with girls in schools throughout New Zealand.

www.enlighteneducation.com

The successful applicant will be:

- Fun, loving and inspiring
- Confident, with the ability to capture the attention of a room full of teen girls
- Passionate about issues affecting girls
- Have a charismatic personality
- Happy to travel and to be a self-employed contractor
- Comfortable with flexible, casual hours (this is not a full-time position)
- A background in education, psychology/counselling, gender studies or drama are all advantageous.

The successful applicant will start training right away and observe presentations in February and March. Ideally the successful applicant will be doing all the NZ presenting from April onwards.

Please contact Rachel Hansen if you have any questions, and send your CV and cover letter to rachel@rachelhansen.co.nz.